A.I Gender

9 VIEW SOURCE

A.I Gender or simply A.I is a form of genderfluidity where one's gender may change depending on who is around them. For example, if a friend doesn't feel comfortable around women or people who identify as a woman, one may identify as a man at that point in time.

AI gender flag by Danganropa

A.I Gender can be a gender on its own or be paired with another gender. When not around other people an A.I Gender person may identify as any gender or combination of genders.

It is based on how A.I are perceived.

History

The term was coined on the 15th of December 2020 by Instagram user https.degenrate_weeb.exe.

So one of my friends says they feel like this but don't want to be considered a xenogender since they're neurotypical. So they're wondering if they can just use the term gender fluid and still be this identity.

VirgilJanus • 7/10/2021

Yeah, they can identify as just genderfluid
Also, it's perfectly fine to use xenogenders as a NT unless it specifically says ND only

Cryptocrew • 7/30/2021

Xenogenders arent exclusive to neurodivergent people. Neurogenders are.

I'm not sure if there's a more specific gender like that, but I know there's mutogender!

Is there a sexuality version of this? :0

Goatsjourney • 7/12/2021

Maybe, if not you could make one and call it A.I sexual or something(idk you could probaly come up with a better name)

Idk about my gender (that may or may not exist) but this is I feel about pronouns, like, I'm still confused on my gender, but there are certain people I allow to only use certain pronouns for me bc if they use any others it doesn't feel right, is that a thing?

Cryptocrew • 7/30/2021

Yep! Mutopronouns would probably work.

Honestly sounds kinda sad tho. You have to change your identity atm bc ur friend isn't comfortable with your gender? That is not very pog

L2 A Six • 2/27/2021

agreed

Ap0lloooooo • 4/2/2021

i guess we just want to make people happy?

LGBTQ101 • 4/3/2021

@Ap0lloooooo I agree I'm constantly switching genders based on who im around to make them feel comfortable making me go by all pronouns too based on this but my lesser-used gender is girl or women-based genders

L2 A Six • 4/5/2021

@LGBTQ101 I only change between male, demiboy, and enby but I don't really use female and I used to use demigirl

AdaptiveLynn • 6/11/2021

There're also people who enjoy the experience. Pretty sure this label suits one of Our partners, a precious little bundle of kindness who shifts genders a la genderfluid but has also said in no uncertain terms that they enjoy shifting genders and are happy being whatever We want them to be.
